

Breed Descriptor of Double Humped (Camel)

Breeding Tract
State: Jammu & Kashmir		Ladakh
Location
Longitude (deg.)		. - .
Latitude (deg.)		. - .
General Information
Synonyms
Origin		It is believed that these camels belong to the stock originally native to Gobi desert of Asia and introduced by traders of Yak through silk route.
Major utility		Work - Transport.; Wool - hair
Comments on utility		These camels were widely used as important source of transport when the silk route was in operation before 1950. They produce superior quality hair which are used in cottage industries.
Comments on breeding tract		Available in Nubra valley of Jammu and Kashmir.
Adaptability to environment		These camels are suitable for cold desert areas.
Population
	Year	Population	Other information
	2003	102	Estimates of J&K Govt.
Management
Management system		Intensive
Mobility		Stationary
Feeding of adults		Grazing, Fodder and Concentrate
Comments on Management
Morphology
Colour
Horn shape and size
Visible characteristics
	Male	Female	Overall
Performance
	Average	Minimum	Maximum

Fleece weight (kg/year)	3.0
Any Peculiarity of the breed			